Hooper, Lundy & Bookman is pleased to announce that Robert Miller was recognized by the American Bar Association’s Health Law Section with an Emerging Young Lawyers in Healthcare Award during the Health Law Section’s EMI Virtual Townhall on March 31.

The ABA recognized Robert for a broad range of achievement, vision, leadership, and legal and community service in health law. Robert was one of only five lawyers nationally who were recognized for this award. The award was presented by the Section Chair, Jay McEniry, during his State of the Section address.
