

No Surprises Act—Provider Obligations in 2022

Events

12.07.21

The key provisions of the No Surprises Act and its implementing regulations will be effective beginning January 1, 2022, creating significant compliance obligations for a wide range of health care providers. Although the surprise billing provisions of the law focus on billing for out-of-network facility and professional emergency services and out-of-network professional services furnished at in-network facilities, it also imposes a “good faith estimate” requirement that imposes significant new price transparency obligations that apply more generally to health care facilities (including hospitals, CAHs, ASCs, FQHCs, and RHCs) and professionals.
