

CMS Publishes New Health Equity-Related Data Resource

Health Equity

05.18.24

Earlier this month, CMS released its Resource of Health Equity-Related Data Definitions, Standards, & Stratification Practices, which serves as a technical resource for organizations and others to use to align with CMS when collecting, stratifying, and/or analyzing health equity-related data. The guidance can also serve to reconcile discrepancies in results caused by relying upon different data standards and definitions. In that regard, this publication includes suggested definitions, standards, and stratification practices for numerous sociodemographic elements.
