> "I feel fortunate to be at a firm so committed to using its deep bench of talent and extensive resources to not only serve our clients, but also to improve the health care system for patients and providers alike."

Combining pragmatic analysis with creative, strategic approaches to complicated problems and contentious disputes, Suzy Ginosyan represents health care clients in a wide range of contested matters. Her experience with every phase of the litigation lifecycle and her ability to deftly and efficiently shepherd cases from inception to conclusion form the foundation of her effective advocacy and clear, reasoned counsel.

The trust Suzy's colleagues and clients place in her skills, judgment, and work ethic has manifested in the extensive and increasing litigation responsibilities she has been given since she began her career. This includes independently managing a high-volume caseload involving complex commercial disputes, consumer claims, and health care litigation related to managed care reimbursement and payment issues. From the nuts and bolts of litigation practice to the development and implementation of sophisticated case strategies, Suzy keeps her focus squarely on achieving her clients' objectives efficiently and conclusively.

Suzy shares HLB's commitment to health care accessibility and equity, and thrives when presented with challenging or novel issues. Her clients appreciate her candor, professionalism, and commitment. In turn, she delivers clear, thoughtful guidance tailored to protecting and advancing their interests as they define them.
